California Attorney General: Sample Notice Submission

(Civil Code 1798.82(f))

Obligation ID: DL-005
Status: Final

Submission deadline: 27 August 2026 at 07:35 UTC (08:35 WAT)

Clock basis: The deadline is 15 calendar days after the consumer-notice deadline. This is a dependent clock, not a new 15-day period starting from the date of awareness.

California residents notified: 530, which exceeds the 500-resident threshold.

This is a sample copy of the notice being sent to affected California residents, as required under Civil Code 1798.82(f). It is not a separately drafted notice.

Sample notice

Status: Triggered
Deadline: 12 August 2026 at 07:35 UTC (08:35 WAT), which is 30 calendar days from 13 July 2026 at 07:35 UTC.

What happened: An unauthorized actor accessed data that included your account email and password hash and, for some individuals, medical information. The actor has not been identified.

530 individuals have been confirmed as affected.

What we know and what is still being investigated: The exposure of account credentials, including email addresses and password hashes, has been confirmed. The extent of the medical-information exposure depends on the assessment of whether the encryption key was acquired. For this case, encryption_key_acquired=True. This information may be updated as the investigation continues.

What we are doing: Containment has been completed. We recommend monitoring your accounts while we finalize additional remediation steps.

No law-enforcement delay has been requested for this notice.
